

NUREMBERG TRIAL HAILED BY TRUMAN

He Says It Blazed a New Trail in International Justice — Accepts Parker Resignation

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—The Nuremberg trial blazed "a new trail in international justice," President Truman said today in accepting the resignation of John J. Parker, United States Circuit Judge of Charlotte, N. C., as alternate member of the International Military Tribunal.

Judge Parker submitted his resignation, effective Monday, to return to his judicial duties now that he has completed the service he agreed to perform. In accepting it, President Truman wrote Judge Parker praising his service and commending the work of the tribunal.

"The Nuremberg trial will be long remembered," he stated. "It was your privilege to participate in the blazing of a new trail in international justice. For this work you were peculiarly fitted by reason of learning, integrity and conscience and judicial temperament.

"I feel that you have discharged your duties with distinction. You have served faithfully and well the cause of civilization and of world peace and can safely leave the results of your labors at Nuremberg to the verdict of history."
