- c. When a Loyalty Board recommends removal there shall be, prior to removal, a right of appeal under provisions prescribed by the head of each department or agency.
- d. The rights of hearing, notice and appeal shall be accorded to all employees, irrespective of tenure or manner, method or nature of appointment.

Under Paragraph 3d of Executive Order No. 9806, it is recommended as follows:

The underlying standard for either the refusal of employment or removal from employment in loyalty cases shall be that, on all the evidence, reasonable grounds exist for believing that the person involved is disloyal to the Government of the United States. Individual employee activities and associations which may be considered in this connection include one or more of the following:

- i. Sabotage, espionage, or attempts or preparations therefore, or knowingly associating with spies or saboteurs;
- ii. Treason or sedition or advocacy thereof;
- iii. Advocacy of revolution or force or violence to alter our constitutional form of government;

- iv. Intentional, unauthorized disclosure to any person of documents or information of a confidential or non-public character obtained by the person making the disclosure as a result of his employment by the Government of the United States;
- v. Performing or attempting to perform his duties, or otherwise acting, so as to serve the interests of another government in preference to the interests of the United States;
- vi. Membership in, affiliation with or sympathetic association with any foreign or domestic organization, association, movement, group or combination of persons, designated by the Attorney General as totalitarian, fascist, communist, or subversive, or as having adopted a policy of advocating or approving the commission of acts of force or violence to deny others their constitutional rights, or as one which seeks to alter our form of government by unconstitutional means.

Under Paragraph 3e of Executive Order No. 9806, it is recommended as follows:

- a. That the temporary legislation by which the Secretaries of the War, Navy and State Departments can presently remove any employee summarily for security reasons, be made permanent because of the sensitive nature of the operations of these three departments, and that permanent legislation of the same character be enacted to grant similar power to the Atomic Energy Commission.

- b. That all of the recommendations contained in this report be effectuated by the promulgation of an Executive Order which will simultaneously provide for the abrogation of Executive Order No. 9300, dated February 5, 1943.

In conclusion, the Commission recommends that this report, together with any Executive Order which the President may issue, be submitted to Congress for consideration.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

PRESCRIBING PROCEDURES FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF AN EMPLOYEES LOYALTY PROGRAM IN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT

WHEREAS each employee of the Government of the United States is endowed with a measure of trusteeship over the democratic processes which are the heart and sinew of the United States; and

WHEREAS it is of vital importance that persons employed in the Federal service be of complete and unswerving loyalty to the United States; and

WHEREAS, although the loyalty of by far the overwhelming majority of all Government employees is beyond question, the presence within the Government service of any disloyal or subversive person constitutes a threat to our democratic processes; and

WHEREAS maximum protection must be afforded the United States against infiltration of disloyal persons into the ranks of its employees, and equal protection from unfounded accusations of disloyalty must be afforded the loyal employees of the Government:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and statutes of the United States, including the Civil Service Act of 1883 (22 Stat. 403), as amended, and section 9A of the act approved August 2, 1939 (18 U.S.C. 61i), and as President and Chief Executive of the July 5, 1946, 60 Stat. 453, or of any other statute conferring the power of summary removal.

4. The Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, and the Secretary of the Treasury with respect to the Coast Guard, are hereby directed to continue to enforce and maintain the highest standards of loyalty within the armed services, pursuant to the applicable statutes, the Articles of War, and the Articles for the Government of the Navy.

5. This order shall be effective immediately, but compliance with such of its provisions as require the expenditure of funds shall be deferred pending the appropriation of such funds.

Mr. President,

I consider your executive order against "disloyalty" in government workers a bigger threat to me and my friends than to evil-doers and traitors. I don't see how you can keep it from becoming a prying, suspecting, disturbing shadow in the lives of any progressive people in the country.

We're doing fine with an unadulterated bill of rights. If the order becomes law, I consider it reason enough to deny you my vote in 1948.

Respectfully,

LEADING AMERICANS WARN OF DANGERS IN ORDER 9835

LAGUARDIA Warns of Danger

"It is safe to predict that the very people who urged and now approve the Executive Order will realize that it is entirely too one-sided and smacks too much of autocratic power, methods of a police state, and contains many of the attributes which we criticize in other countries and which are repulsive and repugnant to American tradition and American principles."

HENRY WALLACE Sees Witch Hunt

"Intolerance has an insatiable appetite. Whom will its inquisition condemn if this drive continues? Every American who reads the wrong books; every American who thinks the wrong thoughts; every American who stands up for civil rights; every American who believed Willkie; every American who supported Roosevelt. Hatred and violence abroad, hatred and fear at home will be the fruits of the Truman Doctrine."

PHILIP MURRAY Condemns Order

"As carefully as I have read this Order, I cannot find clear guarantee of due process, whether with respect to specific charges being made available, or to the opportunity to confront accusers and cross-examine witnesses, or to any of the traditional protections afforded all our citizens under the laws of the nation."

"I am alarmed at the prospect that any organization of citizens, gathered together to express their ideas on matters of mutual interest, may be declared 'subversive' without any specification, definition or limitation of the meaning of that term. There is no assurance in the Order that fraternal or religious associations, labor or consumer groups, literary or educational organizations or institutions, may not be so labeled forthwith."

HARVARD Professors Dissent

"It is imperative to keep clearly in mind what a dismissal under the order means. Far more is involved than the loss of job. It means that:

"(1) The person dismissed will be denied all opportunity for employment anywhere in the Federal Government.

"(2) As a practical consequence, he will also lose almost all possibility of finding employment within any state or municipal government.

"(3) Also, he will encounter special difficulties in obtaining employment in private organizations.

"No provision is made for a detailed record of the hearing or, for that matter, for a record of any kind. There is no requirement that the findings of the loyalty board must be supported by the evidence."

Zechariah Chafee, Jr., Erwin N. Griswold, Milton Katz, Austin W. Scott

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT Voices Fears

"However, the more I think about one clause in the President's Executive Order, the more troubled I am. Under the clause I am afraid it would be possible to declare subversive many organizations that are simply in opposition to the thinking of certain powerful groups."

RESOLVED, by the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution in Congress assembled at Huntington, West Virginia, May 15, A. D. 1947:

1. That we are gratified by the action of the President of the United States because of his Executive Order of March 22, 1947, wherein he has set new standards of loyalty for employees of the United States Government, and has requested a Congressional appropriation of funds to put such standards into effect;

2. That such Executive Order, if enforced by Congress and the Department of Justice, will make it unlawful hereafter for officials of the Government of the United States to have membership in, affiliations with, or sympathetic association with any foreign or domestic organization, association, movement, or combination of persons designated by the Attorney General as totalitarian, Fascist, Communist, or subversive, or as favoring any policy which would overturn our American System by force or violence, or any unconstitutional means; and we are gratified also that if such Executive Order of the President is enforced that it will mean a quick discharge from the Government service of all public officials now in such service whom the Federal Bureau of Investigation may find to be members of any such organizations as are hostile to our system of government and in their hearts loyal to alien systems of government.

reading the text of your speech which you gave yesterday in Oklahoma City, that you stated as follows:

"The FBI has been quietly and efficiently assembling this evidence for several years. The evidence was being presented to the Grand Jury long before the Republican Congressional Committees began their recent hearings. Now these Committees are trying to win credit for digging up evidence. They are trying to cash in on the work of the FBI, and to usurp the functions of the Grand Jury and the Federal Courts."

I assume from the above statement that you have concluded that it was not a "red herring" after all. Further in your speech you made some ridiculous accusations against the Committee on Un-American Activities--accusations which I call upon you now to substantiate by the facts:

1. You stated that this Committee "has made confidential information available to the intelligence services of foreign countries." What information are you referring to? Please name it.
2. You state that this Committee has "injured the reputations of innocent men by spreading wild and false accusations." Who are the innocent men? Please name them.
3. You state that "the Committee has also deprived the Government of the services of a number of atomic scientists." Who are they. Please name them.

Your Attorney General, in a speech given on September 22, in Washington, D. C., in defending your loyalty program, stated:

"The President's program has not ended with the investigation of Federal employees. Thirty-four persons have been convicted in the Federal Courts in Washington, D. C., since July 1, 1945."

Let me have the facts on this also, Mr. President, because I am sure that you will find that most of them resulted directly from the work of this Committee and were cases of subversives who had been certified to the United States Attorney by the House of Representatives, after exposure by our Committee.

I realize, Mr. President, that this is a blunt request, but your attack upon this Committee cannot be left unchallenged.

As Chairman of the Committee on Un-American Activities, I do not intend to be deterred or intimidated by personal attacks upon me by the President of the United States, or by political-serving announcements by the Attorney General, for I shall continue to expose the participants in this communist conspiracy whether they be Government employees, scientists, diplomats, labor leaders, or movie stars.

Sincerely yours,

Chairman.

Since the days of the Pilgrim Fathers millions of people the world over have left their homelands and loved ones and travelled thousands of miles across the seas with only one hope in their hearts - to find a better life for themselves and their children in the U. S. A.

We of the American Anti-Communist League like most Americans are at a loss to understand why the Communists and their fellow-travellers, who extol Soviet Russia and claim it to have a much superior system to ours, fail to take advantage of this great Marxian paradise.

Why don't these Communists leave the shores of this "Capitalist Infested Country" for the much better life in the land of the Soviets?

We, on our part, are ready and able to help the Communists of America to achieve their heart's desire for a better life in the land of Stalin's Utopia. Therefore, the American Anti-Communist League makes the following offer -

We will supply a first-class ticket from the U.S.A. to MOSCOW by Air Clipper or Steamship entirely free and paid by the American Anti-Communist League to any Communist or his fellow-traveller who wishes to renounce his American citizenship and guarantees to never return to the United States.

Dear President Truman:

I have just listened to the rebroadcast of your talk today before the American Legion in Washington. I agreed with a great many of the things you had to say about how our country is being turned into a spineless, hysterical land by people who prey upon fears and use slander, guilt by association and character assassination to build suspicion and close-mindedness. And I agree with you that unless people of strength and character get up the nerve to put a stop to this we'll have no democracy left to defend against possible aggressors.

As I listened, however, there were several things that disturbed me. There seemed to be inconsistencies. Because I've always considered that you are an honest man (perhaps this is in itself an indication of how much all of us -- even supporters -- are infected with the disease of suspicion of the people we would ordinarily never think of doubting), I've decided to take them up with you directly.

In all sincerity, this is what bothered me. (I am impatient with myself for having to apologize for daring to differ with my President -- how effective is the fear of being called a Red because I exercise my right, even my duty, to express honestly the things I wonder about!). As I listened, I asked myself, "Where did all these things start? How did we get sucked into this whirlpool of fear and doubt and slander?"

And I realized, of course, that it started right in Washington. Not in the halls of Congress, where it has been nursed into such a prosperous, vicious handyman, but in the executive branch. What set the pattern for the test of guilt or innocence by association but the loyalty programs? Where did the conclusive evidence of a man's Americanism originate but in the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations?

This is a touchy situation, I know. I do not question the necessity of a government's setting up standards to weed out people who work their way into sensitive positions to do spying or sabotage for a foreign power. But how can I reconcile this reasonable necessity with the sweeping, all-pervading snooping into the lives and thoughts of decent people who are as remote from sensitive jobs as a truckdriver? And how can I reconcile a valid security check with the wild-eyed hysteria whipped up by vicious reactionaries and bigots who justify their campaigns of fear and hate by the fact that the government itself is doing almost the same thing? Once the snowball of suspecting and deducing a loathsome guilt from anonymous tips and possibly-malicious denunciations gets started in, say, the State Department, it is inevitable that it will roll into something huge and flatten everybody in its path -- be he postal clerk, typist or elevator operator. The psychology of suspicion and intolerance quickly reaches the point where it invades all walks of life, because we're all afraid of the same thing -- losing the democracy we all cherish so. "Reasonable doubt" turns into "reasonable grounds" for dismissal. What is the difference between "reasonable doubt" of a man's loyalty and "reasonable grounds" for assuming his disloyalty? When you begin to think that way, where do you stop? Is it any wonder that our own Secretary of State and Defense Secretary can be called Communists when intelligent, respectable men can fire a person because of evidence that can never stand up in a court of law?

506 McDONALD AVENUE

Yes, I'm really upset about all this. I heard of something today that got me mad. It was of a man I know who is desperate, his family in a terrible way. He was a postoffice clerk, he's 34 years old. He's worked hard and struggled all his life for the security he thought he had in the postoffice. But then he lost his job in a loyalty investigation because it turned out that somebody said that he had been a member of a subversive organization when he was 18 years old. He didn't deny it, it was true. I don't even know what organization it was, but it probably was some Communist-led group that said it wanted to do away with discrimination and prejudice. He's a Negro so he joined it. Why shouldn't he have? Do you ask for a man's credentials when you're sick and he promises to relieve your pain? Now, 16 years later, he loses his job and his family's bread and butter because he is suddenly labeled "a known subversive".

That's not the end of the story. He found another job -- as a truckdriver. I don't think it paid as well as the one he lost but he couldn't be fussy. Then his firm got a defense contract. He was fired again, same reason. Maybe he'll find another job, maybe he won't for a long while. What is to happen to him, not only economically but morally? Is his family to be disgraced because some narrow-minded group of officials don't have enough sense or decency to know a subversive from a hole in the wall?

It's a nasty story, but I daresay it's not the only one of its kind. I wonder what this man would say of the kind of "Americanism" that gives him freedom of speech with one hand and then takes away his very bread and butter for having exercised it in a way that isn't popular any more. What kind of "Americanism" is that grants him the freedom of assembly our Constitution talks of with one hand and then ruins his insignificant career with the other because he exercised it? What harm to national security is there in allowing this man to live and work? Even if he were a Communist, which he isn't and never dreamed of being, how could he sabotage the nation's defense by selling stamps in a post-office or driving some contractor's dump truck, or whatever kind of truck it is? Isn't our FBI efficient enough to catch a saboteur on evidence without our having to terrorize every person who ever dared to speak up for the equality we know is ours, regardless of skin color? Am I to stop believing that discrimination is bad just because the Communists say the same thing? Is the President the only one who can get away with saying that FEPC-laws are necessary to insure fairness in job selection? That's what it comes down to, it seems to me.

It's reached the point where I have to think more than twice about writing a letter to my own President for fear it'll find its way into some dossier and be thrown back at me someday by God-knows-who. I'm quite serious about that -- I had seriously to tell myself that if we've reached that stage by now, there's no use in having any more faith in anything, so I might just as well take the chance.

And that isn't a healthy attitude for a citizen of a democracy to have. When ordinary people like me begin to think that way, Americanism is truly in danger.

I really hope you'll be able to answer these questions in my mind. I want to know how you feel about these things, so I can understand them better. I guess it all boils down to this -- how can you, as President, accept the responsibility for having started the official loyalty program... and attack those who are merely carrying it to its logical extreme (God help us if it gets any more extreme than now!)? If those are perhaps unkind words, I hope you'll try to put yourself in my place and know how I felt when I heard about the man I just spoke of. I think none of us can possibly know he must feel!

Sincerely yours,

Laurence Jaeger

My dear President Truman:

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is greatly concerned about an increasing tendency on the part of government agencies to associate activity on interracial matters with disloyalty. Thus, various investigating agents of the government have been asking white persons whether they associate with colored people. Colored people have been asked whether they have entertained white people in their homes. In addition, there is considerable evidence before us that many colored government employees, who are now being charged with disloyalty, have such accusations brought against them because they have actively opposed segregation and discrimination in their places of employment or in their communities.

At present, we have information on charges filed against colored and white government workers in Chicago, New York, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Washington, and Baltimore. If given a fair hearing, these individuals will undoubtedly obtain complete exoneration. Meanwhile, the government will have spent considerable time and money in processing their cases. The evidence against them is such that it should never have been used in the first instance. However, since it was used, the written answers furnished by employees are more than sufficient to justify dismissal of the cases. Under the Loyalty Review Board's regulations, agencies are entitled to drop such charges without hearing. However, in the cases mentioned, the agencies have decided to conduct hearings. This is particularly true of the Post Office Department where a number of employees with work records of fifteen years and more are now suddenly charged with disloyalty.

40th ANNUAL CONFERENCE, Los Angeles, California, July 12-17, 1949, inclusive 25

President Harry S. Truman

November 26, 1948

In view of the new developments, we believe that the whole loyalty program should be restudied by a committee of distinguished citizens. The present procedure of confronting employees with charges based on hearsay and doubtful sources has done much to embarrass and intimidate loyal citizens. We, therefore, respectfully urge that a review be made of the present loyalty program. The NAACP is particularly interested in preventing biased informants and officials from using the loyalty program to persecute members of minority groups or persons sympathetic to the program of civil rights, which you have so courageously championed.

Ever sincerely,

Walter White

Secretary.

Sourcing Questions	Walter White was executive secretary of the NAACP. Why is his affiliation with that organization important?
Contextualization Questions	Truman is known for some of his early work on civil rights. Why is that significant in understanding this document? NOTE TO teacher: Perhaps review Truman's desegregation of the armed forces in 1948. What is this author's concern?

The Congress of The United States

PETITION

We, the undersigned citizens and residents of the United States, hereby express our approval of the fight which the United States is waging against Communism, believing that the defeat of this form of totalitarianism is as important to world peace as the defeat of Nazism and Fascism. We pledge our support to the United States Government and its various agencies in fighting Communist infiltration into American life and American organizations in an effort to confine and demoralize us in the conflict between this country and the Soviet Union and its satellites. We sincerely believe that the people in Eastern European countries including Slovakia, our ancestral home, are not in favor of Communist rule; that the vast majority of these people are for America and the American form of democracy and are ready and willing to fight with the United States in bringing about lasting peace in Europe and the world, which will never be possible by imposing alien rule upon them even through the most ruthless methods now employed.
