Dear Bess:

This is a beautiful Sunday morning the first real sunny day in several, so a sunny Easter is really working. I was not intending to be hard boiled about the letters. I was homesick and ^{heart} sore and was fully disappointed and may, a little jealous when two days went by and I got no letter and someone else in the family did. The balance of the week was delightful from a letter standpoint and I have nothing but praise for your effort. Let me say that next Sunday too.

Fred gave a party last night and Natalie wanted me to have dinner with them but the board of equitation was meeting late and I asked her to postpone the invitation and she said she would.

I had a fine talk with T. J. yesterday and I am still on top. He told me to do as I pleased with the County pay roll make the adjustments I wanted to and he put the organization in line behind me. He also told me that I could be Congressman or Collector. Think of that a while. Congressman pays $7500⁰⁰ and has to live in Washington six months a year. Collector will pay 10000⁰⁰ and stay at home; a political sky high career ends with eight years collector. I have an opportunity to be a power in the nation as congressman. I don't have to make a decision until next year. Think about it. Write often. Harry
